Living in Córdoba

Córdoba has a long, rich history which is reflected in the special atmosphere that permeates the city. It is known for the historical harmony achieved in the city and surrounding areas between Jewish, Christian and Muslim communities. It attracts a large number of tourists who enjoy the charm of its monuments, orange tree lined streets and excellent restaurants and bars. Situated in the heart of Andalucía it is 'real Spain' with a full cultural calendar including the annual 'feria', guitar and poetry festivals, theater and dance. Staff enjoy a full range of sports locally such as running, cycling, golf and angling.

It is a safe city for families with good local transport and a relatively low cost of living. It has high speed rail links to Madrid (1hr 40 mins), Seville (45 mins) or Málaga (55 mins) with good motorway connections. It is served by Malaga and Seville airports. Most staff live in the city but some have opted to settle in the surrounding villages.
